CANTERBURY PARK MILESTONES

1982
Voters approve an amendment allowing pari-mutuel wagering.

1984
Ground is broken for Minnesota's first and only pari-mutuel racetrack. The name Canterbury Downs is chosen by a drawing in which more than 1,000 Minnesotans submit names.

1985
Canterbury Downs opens on June 26th. A crowd of 15,079 is joined by Governor Perpich to celebrate the first day of pari-mutuel racing in Minnesota. English-bred Faiz, wins the first race. Wagering on the nine-race card totals $867,627.

1986
The inaugural running of the $300,000 St. Paul Derby attracts a record crowd of 23,351 patrons who wager more than $2 million dollars on the race card for the first time in track history. Canterbury Downs enjoys its peak year - almost $135 million is wagered with the state gaining more than $7 million dollars for the general fund.

1987
The Minnesota Legislature refuses to grant tax relief to the state's horse racing industry, leading Canterbury Downs to drastically reduce the purse structure for the season. As a result, attendance drops by more than 26% on the season and wagering decreases by nearly 17%.

1988
Minnesota lawmakers enact legislation significantly reducing the pari-mutuel tax paid by Canterbury Downs. By law, the money saved is funneled into the purse structure. Average daily handle and per capita wagering rebound from the previous year's falloff, but attendance continues to decline.

1990
Ladbroke Racing Corporation purchases Canterbury Downs, but the track continues to struggle. The influx of casino gaming and pull-tabs in Minnesota create competition for the gaming dollar.

1991
The Minnesota Legislature passes off-track betting, but the Minnesota Supreme Court strikes its passage down as unconstitutional.

1992
Canterbury Downs closes the doors after a disastrous live racing season that saw average attendance drop to under 2,900 patrons daily. The average daily handle is half the previous season.

1993
Twin Cities financier Irwin Jacobs agrees to purchase Canterbury Downs. The transaction is completed in early 1994. Three months later, Jacobs sells the track to Curtis and Randy Sampson and Dale Schenian.

1994
Canterbury Park Holding Corporation puts together an initial public offering, which raises $8 million, making Canterbury Park one of the few publicly held race tracks in the country. For the first time, Canterbury Park is virtually debt free. At right, Canterbury Park joins the American Stock Exchange in 2002. Canterbury Park is currently traded under the ticker symbol CPHC on the NASDAQ, a move that took place in August of 2008.

1995

Live racing returns to Minnesota. More than 306,000 visitors come through the turnstiles, wagering more than $66.5 million dollars. Canterbury Park sends its races out of state via satellite on a regular basis for the first time.

1997

Senator Dick Day (R - Owatonna) introduces legislation that would permit casino-style slot machines at Canterbury Park. Throughout months of spirited debate, public opinion polls support slots at Canterbury Park, but opposition from legislators and special interest groups prevail.

1998

Canterbury Park announces it has turned a profit for a second consecutive year, and the Legislature and Governor Arne Carlson approve permanent legislation, which exempts the first $12 million of pari-mutuel revenue from the 6% pari-mutuel tax. The bills also permits Canterbury Park to retain uncashed winning tickets. Also, for the first time since inception in 1985, Canterbury shows a profit for the period which includes the live racing meet. Attendance and overall handle are up four percent over the previous year.

1999

The inaugural Claiming Crown is held at Canterbury Park producing a record handle and attendance. The day receives a tremendous response from fans and produces an attendance figure of 11,380, a record for Canterbury Park at that time.

2000

The Minnesota Racing Commission unanimously approves the operating plan for the new Canterbury Card Club, which had earlier passed the Minnesota Legislature. The Card Club will offer wagering on unbanked card games. Card Club construction begins on the first floor of the grandstand. A significant portion of the Card Club's revenues is dedicated to horse racing purses and the Minnesota Breeders' Fund. The Card Club opens in April and its impact is felt almost immediately during the 2000 live racing season with a pair of 10% purse increases, sending total purses paid up by 26.6% over the previous year.

2001

Canterbury Park is chosen by Forbes Magazine as one of the 2000 Best Small Companies in America. The stringent criteria include revenue and earnings per share growth of 5% or greater over a four year time period. Canterbury Park is also named one of the top 50 companies in Minnesota based on similar criteria.

2002

Two-time defending riding champion Derek Bell sets a Canterbury record when he rides The Hot Corner to victory in the evening's first Quarter Horse race. The victory was Bell's sixth on the card, setting the mark for the most victories in one racing day.

Canterbury Park Holding Corporation announced plans for a multi-purpose entertainment and gaming complex on its existing 367-acre site in Shakopee. The development proposal, termed the Racino at Canterbury Park, would combine existing entertainment options, with a new series of offerings, including slot and video gaming, an Olympic horse park, an agricultural event facility, a first-class hotel, and a conference center.

The Minnesota Legislature adjourns without taking action on Canterbury Park's Racino Bill. The bill passed the House of Representatives but failed to get out of committee in the Senate.

Canterbury Park is named to Fortune's Small Business list of America's Fastest Growing Small Companies. Landing at #19 on the list of 100 businesses, Canterbury is one of only three gaming operations to be honored.

2004

Canterbury Park begins the celebration of 10 years of racing under the current ownership by unveiling a $1.5 million dollar renovation of the clubhouse and simulcast area. The upgrade reflects the changing needs of simulcast players by modernizing both the viewing and wagering areas, refining the food service, and turning the third floor into one of the most luxurious clubhouses in the country.

2005

Canterbury Park invests in backside improvements including a $500,000 equine aquatic exercise facility and over $300,000 in upgrades to the training track. Following a partial government shutdown in July, the special session of the Minnesota Legislature adjourned without taking final action on the company's proposed Racino legislation, which would authorize electronic gaming devices to be operated by the Minnesota Lottery at Canterbury Park.

2006

Opening day of the 2006 race meet, Saturday, May 6, set a record for attendance and total on-track handle. With nine live races and full card simulcasting including the Kentucky Derby, a crowd of 17,111 wagered $1,925,997.

On July 3 Canterbury presented its first ever Fireworks Spectacular following that evening's racing program. Attendance reached 11,872. Live music on the track apron preceded the fireworks display.

2007

The inaugural Extreme Race Day on Sunday, July 22 was highlighted by the "Battle of the Surfaces" which featured horses competing on the turf and dirt simultaneously in a single pari-mutuel event. This was the first race of its type in North America. The day also included ostrich and camel racing and attracted a crowd of 16,259.

Legislation prohibiting smoking in public places takes effect on October 1 making Canterbury the only non-smoking gaming venue in the state.

The Minnesota Racing Commission granted racing dates to Running Aces Harness Park in Columbus Township in the northern metro, allowing for a 53-day harness meet beginning in April 2008, and subsequently, a card club operation.

2008

The live racing season produced a new Canterbury Park record attendance figure of 18,230, set on opening day. Unfortunately, the meet suffers from declines similar to those seen across the industry. For the first time since 1997 at Canterbury Park, the average attendance failed to increase compared to the previous season. Overall, attendance decreased by 1.6% and on-track handle declined by 8.6% as compared to 2007.

2009

The 2009 live racing season saw downturns in handle consistent with industry-wide trends. Average daily handle declined 16.8%. Attendance rebounded and once again became a bright spot as the daily average reached 5,481, a new Canterbury Park record.

Trainer Mac Robertson won his fifth consecutive thoroughbred training title, notching 75 wins and $1,049,254 in earnings. Robertson capped the meet with four victories on Minnesota Festival of Champions Day. Dean Butler won his first Canterbury thoroughbred riding title with 72 wins.

The 11th Claiming Crown was a success by many measures. Both handle and attendance increased by 11% compared to the previous year. The jockey colony assembled for Claiming Crown was arguably the strongest anywhere in the country on that day. The sport's all-time winningest rider Russell Baze had two Claiming Crown victories. Julien Leparoux, second in the country in purse money earned by a rider in 2009, also had a win. Leparoux finished fourth in the Claiming Crown Jewel aboard Furthest Land That duo went on to win the $1,000,000 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile.

2010

Canterbury celebrated its 25th anniversary season in 20120. Mac Robertson won his sixth consecutive thoroughbred training title while Dean Butler won his second riding title. Edward Ross Hardy continued his dominance with Quarter Horses, capturing his ninth consecutive training title. Ry Eikleberry was leading Quarter Horse jockey. For the second consecutive year, a daily average attendance record was set. Canterbury again hosted Claiming Crown; the 10th time in 12 years that the event has been held at the Shakopee oval.

In 2011, the Minnesota State Government Shutdown forced Canterbury Park to cease live racing, simulcast and card casino operations from July 1 - July 20, costing the Company an estimated $2 million in revenue. Additionally, the legislature adjourned without taking final action on the Racino proposal.

Even though Canterbury was required to cancel or reschedule 12 live racing days as a result of the Shutdown, the Company recorded a new average attendance record of 6,143 race fans per day.

2012

On June 4, 2012 Canterbury Park and the Shakopee Mdewakanton Sioux Community announced a 10-year cooperative marketing and purse enhancement agreement that will inject $75 million into the horsemen's purse fund. The agreement also includes annual payments to Canterbury Park totaling $8.5 million over the 10 years that will be used for joint marketing efforts between the two properties. Purses in 2012 increased by nearly 35% compared to 2011 levels.

2013

Canterbury unveiled a $1.5 million tote board for the 2013 race season, the longest since 2006, with 69 days and 645 races. The fully digital board was financed through the joint marketing agreement with SMSC. The stable area's 1,600 stalls were filled for the first time since 1991. Daily average out-of-state handle increased by 31.8 percent and total daily average handle was a record $546,532. A record $12.5 million in purses were distributed.

2014

Canterbury Park opened its 30,000 square foot Expo Center, making the property the fourth largest exhibit space in the Twin Cities. Construction began on a $1 million remodel of the south end of clubhouse level.

2015

In 2015, a record $14.1 million in purses were paid during the 70-day race meet, the longest in Canterbury Park history. The racing product continued to gain in popularity nationally. Out-of-state handle increased by 16.1 percent. The newly remodeled Triple Crown Club opened in early 2015, offering enhanced amenities for both live racing and simulcast. Long-time racing secretary Doug Schoepf retired and was succeeded by Robert Junk.

2016

Canterbury Park Holding Corporation created two subsidiaries, Canterbury Park Entertainment LLC and Canterbury Development LLC. Entertainment LLC is the direct owner of all land, facilities, and all other assets related to the CPHC's pari-mutuel wagering, Card Casino, concessions and other related businesses. Entertainment LLC will continue to conduct those businesses and will continue to be subject to direct regulation by the Minnesota Racing Commission. Development LLC will continue the efforts to commercially develop approximately 140 acres of land that is not needed for Racetrack Operations. The commercial development will be known as Canterbury Commons. Development LLC is not subject to direct regulation by the MRC.

Canterbury began a renovation of the track infield, with plans to use the space for a concert and special events area in the future.

2017

In November, plans for a multi-phase redevelopment, named Canterbury Commons, on 380 acres of Canterbury Park property were introduced. Phase One of the redevelopment plan includes multi-family residential and upscale townhome components and an office/business park, as well as a 55+ housing co-op and neighborhood retail. Future phase concepts include first-in-market restaurant and 'eat'ertainment options, themed-hotels such as a water park, an indoor/outdoor plaza with year-round entertainment, specialty retail, and a premier gateway development at one of the most coveted intersections in the greater metro. Shakopee City Council in December approved a Comprehensive Plan Amendment, an important first step in the approval process for Canterbury Commons.

2018

Construction of Canterbury Commons, a multi-use redevelopment expected to attract more than $400 million in private investment while creating new and in-demand housing options and high-wage employment opportunities, as well as additional dining and entertainment venues, began in October following Shakopee City Council approval of a TIF District and a Contract For Private Redevelopment between the City, the Economic Development Authority, and Canterbury Park earlier that year. The first phase includes a $100 million multi-family residential complex.known as Triple Crown and led by Doran Companies. The extension of Shenandoah Drive, which will provide access to the redevelopment of more than 60 acres while connecting neighborhoods to the east and west of Canterbury Park, also began.

The announcement of Twin Cities Summer Jam, a three-day music festival, was made in the summer of 2018. This will be the first major concert held in the racetrack infield since it was reconfigured in 2016.

The 66-day race meet was the 25th season of live horse racing since the property re-opened as Canterbury Park. Racing began on Kentucky Derby weekend with 20,770 attending the races on the first Saturday in May, the third largest crowd in Park history.

Twin Cities Summer Jam became the first major concert held in the reconfigured racetrack infield. The three-day event attracted 35,000 music fans with Aerosmith headlining on the final night. A return engagement in 2020 was announced in the Fall.

Canterbury Commons continued to become a reality. A city street connecting 12th Ave. to the south and Shenandoah to the east is completed along with addition of needed infrastructure that will allow for more rapid development in 2020.

Curtis Sampson, Chairman Emeritus of Canterbury Park Holding Corporation, died July 16 at the age of 87. Curt reopened Canterbury Park in 1994 and led it to the successful publicly held gaming, entertainment and development company that it is today. Under his chairmanship, Canterbury Park was transformed from a shuttered racetrack into one of the most attended racetracks in the nation through a unique blend of entertainment and a relentless focus on its family-friendly atmosphere.

It was Curt's dedication to people and an industry he had come to love, that is ingrained in the culture of Canterbury and was the trademark of any Sampson business. Curt created a culture of loyalty, ethical business dealings, honesty, and community service.

In 2012, Curt's leadership was instrumental in a partnership created with Shakopee Mdewakanton Souix Community, owners and operators of Mystic Lake Casino Hotel. A cooperative marketing and racing purse enhancement solidified the future of racing and breeding in the state.

The COVID-19 global pandemic caused two business interruptions during 2020 as Canterbury was mandated by Gov. Tim Walz to cease operations, from March 16 through June 10 and Nov 20 into early 2021, to help slow the spread of the coronavirus. Capacity limits were the norm throughout the summer meet, shortened from the 65-day proposed meet, from June 10 through Sept. 16. A Monday through Thursday evening schedule, appealing to the national wagering audience, resulted in record handle of $68 million.

The Triple Crown Residence, the initial phase of the $400 millon Canterbury Commons project, began leasing. In 2020, with two city streets and needed infrastruture newly completed, Canterbury announced a 14 acre land sales agreement with Pulte Home and Lifestyle Communities to construct 160 residential units, as well as a joint venture with Greystone Construction to develop a 13-acre land parcel.

2021

Canterbury Park rebounded from the impacts of COVID-19 pandemic shutdowns of the prior year with multiple record revenue months in the card casino and the return of many special events including Twin Cities Summer Jam and the addition of the Canterbury Summer Concert Series. A 65-day race meet was conducted with no interruptions and no capacity limits. Sunday racing returned to the schedule as did large crowds on promotional days. A live racing record handle of $90.8 million was achieved while a record $15,558,701 in purse money was distributed.

2022

Records were achieved during the 2022 racing season with $97,615,998 in handle, daily average wagering of $1,525,250 and purse payouts of $15,715,307. The landmark cooperative marketing and purse enhancement agreement reached with Shakopee Mdewakanton Sioux Community in 2012 expired at the end of 2022. Announced was a proposed land sale of 40 acres to Swervo Development Corporation who intends to construct a 19,000-seat amphitheater. Plans for modernization of the barn area were also unveiled including a phased construction of barns and dormitories along with the demolition of others. Installation of a new main track and paddock lighting system began.

2023

Canterbury Commons, the multi-use development of real estate surrounding the racetrack, continued to grow with the completion of several owner-occupied and for-lease residential units as well as the opening of a restaurant and brewery. The sale of 37-acres of land to Swervo Development was finalized, spurring initial construction in late summer of a 19-thousand capacity amphitheater, with completion expected in spring of 2025.

The $15 million stable area improvement project continued with the opening of a 36-unit dormitory and complete remodel of the receiving barn area, converting it to stabling for 80 horses. The main track lighting system was completely replaced and the training track was reconfigured prior to the 2023 season. In the Fall, construction work began on three new barns that will be home to more than 300 horses in the 2024 racing season. The barn construction project continued a busy off-season of upgrades that also included the installation of a new safety rail on the main track and relocation of the main stable gate.

With the SMSC purse enhancement agreement expiring at the end of 2022, Canterbury conducted its first race season without tribal support since 2011. Race dates and purses were reduced, resulting in smaller average field size and a drop in average per-day handle of 41 percent compared to 2022.

Dale Schenian died on August 25. Mr. Dale was a driving force behind the reopening of Canterbury in 1994. Minnesota racing suffered another loss with the death of Bob Lothenbach in November. Lothenbach won four consecutive leading owner titles from 2020 through 2023 as well as setting a single-season purse earnings record of $1.52 million in 2022.

Construction was completed on three new horse barns, each housing 108 horses. The barns, new main track safety rail, relocation of the main stable area entrance and new circulation roads were part of a $15 million racing infrastructure investment. A seven-furlong chute was added on the first turn of the main track, allowing for a new distance to be contested. Live racing handle increased by 13 percent as did average field size.

The growth of Canterbury Commons continued with construction starting on a restaurant and event center, named Boardwalk Kitchen & Bar and Stables Event Center, adjacent to the six-furlong chute. The Winners Circle development added two new restaurants, a health club and a second office building.

Construction of the largest outdoor music amphitheater venue in Minnesota, with capacity for 19,000 guests, continued. This state-of-the-art facility is expected to attract the world's top acts and artists, opening in 2026.

2025

The district redevelopment continued with the anticipated opening of Boardwalk Kitchen & Bar in June. Mystic Lake purchased the naming rights for the new amphitheater. The initial concerts for 2026 were announced in October with 40 or more shows expected beginning in June. Jennifer Lauerman returned to Canterbury Park as Vice President of Marketing and Entertainment.

THE LADY CANTERBURY STAKES

Part of the ongoing story of any racetrack is its historic races, often named in commemoration of founding fathers, famous horses or grand contributors to the game. Many of those races have storied pasts and memorable results. Such is the legacy of the Lady Canterbury, the first turf race ever run at Canterbury.

The inaugural Lady Canterbury was run in 1986 and twice later as a Grade III event, a race with winners whose names roll off the tongue like a Sunday litany: to name a few - Paulson & Summa Stables' Sauna, Nature's Way, Maktoum al Maktoum's Balbonella, Down Again, Fieldy and Falls Amiss, in addition to Go Go Jack in a track record breaking performance, local longshot K Z Bay, Ruthville in 2012, owned by Kentucky royalty Arthur B. Hancock III and Awesome Flower, twice, for owners Kenneth and Sarah Ramsey.

The Lady Canterbury was the first race ever conducted on the Canterbury turf course. The $50,000 race, at one mile on the turf, will be run for the 34th time.
